

Twenty-one Lute Songs or Duets

Source: The Second Booke of Songs and Ayres, 1601

Robert Jones

8. Beautie stand further

Beau-tie stand fur-ther, re-pine not at my blam-ing, Is it not mur-ther, to set my hart on flam-ing,
Is it not bet-ter, to lovethy friend in good sort, Then to be deb-ter, for kind-nesse name to re-port,

Beaut-y stand fur-ther, re-pine not at my blam-ing, is it not mur-ther to set my hart on flam-ing, thus
Is it not bet-ter, to lovethy friend in good sort, Then to be deb-ter, for kind-nesse name to re-port, If

5

Thus hope - lesse to take bare sight of such a glor - ie doth tempt me to
If you had the lesse, For this rich mer-cie lend-ing, Then I should con - hope - les to take, hope - les to take bare sight of such a glo - rie doth tempt you had the lesse, you had the lesse, For this rich mer - cie lend - ing, then should make my death be - get a stor - ie, Then pit - ie pit - ie me, pit - ie pit - ie me,

8

- fesse, No thrift were in such spend - ing. Oh pit - ie pit - ie me, pit - ie pit - ie me, me to make my death be - get a sto - rie, Then pit - ie pit - ie me, I con - fesse, No thrift were in such spend - ing. Oh pit - ie pit - ie me,