

Twenty-one Lute Songs or Duets

Source: The Second Booke of Songs and Ayres, 1601

Robert Jones

1. Love wing'd my hopes

Love wing'd my hopes and taught me howe to But my vaine hopes proude of their new taught And none but love their woe-full hap did

Love, Love, wing'd my hopes and taught me howe to But, but my vaine hopes proude of their new taught And, and none but love their woe - full hap did flie farre from base flight, en - a - mour'd rue, for love did earth, but flie farre from base earth, but flight, en - a - mour'd sought to rue, for love did know that earth but not to mount too hie, sought to woo the Sunnes fayre light, know that their de - sires were true, not to mount too hie, woo the Sunnes fayre light, their de - sires were true,